FAMILY NEWS—APRIL 2022

Troublemakers

Throughout history there have been those who have been labeled as “troublemakers.” Often times these are those who are regarded by society as narrow-minded, intolerant and un-enlighten. Those with a conviction that does not fit with the popular narrative. A careful examination of those who are pointing others out as troublemakers often reveals self interest and a desire to remain or acquire more personal power. Jude reminds us that this is not new. In times past there has been and will continue to be those who oppose things pertaining to godliness. “These people are grumblers and fault finders, they follow their own evil desires, they boast about themselves and flatter others for their own advantage.” - Jude 16.

Pharoah referred to Moses as a troublemaker. The silversmiths of Ephesus called Paul a troublemaker. Any time people take a stand for righteousness, there will be those who will quickly point fingers and label them as troublemakers.

The Troublemaker

I could tell the moment that I saw Him
He was nothing but the trouble making kind
His hair was much too long and His motley group of friends
Had nothing but rebellion on their minds
He's rejected the establishment completely
I know for sure He's never held a job
He just goes from town to town, stirring up the young folks
Till they're nothing but a disrespectful mob
I know for sure He's never joined the army
And served His country like we all have done
He'd rather wear His sandals and His flowers
While others wage the war that must be won
They arrested Him last week and found Him guilty
And sentenced Him to die but that's no great loss
Friday they will take Him to a place called Calvary
And hang that troublemaker to a cross!
